

WIRE 2026: Meeting of Professionals and Innovations

The 14th International exhibition WIRE was held at the Exhibition Center «Timiryazev Center», becoming a key event in the wire and cable industry. The event was part of an alliance with the exhibitions Litmash, Metallurgy, Tube and Steel Constructions, which allowed to unite participants from related industries and create a platform for the exchange of experience and technologies.

The event attracted about 6,000 specialists, manufacturers, and distributors from various regions of Russia and foreign countries. This demonstrates the high interest in the exhibition and its significance for the industry. Participants were able to showcase their achievements, find new partners, conclude important agreements, and strengthen business connections.

The exhibition was attended by companies from Russia, China, India, and Iran. Among them were both major international players and young startups offering unique solutions. The participants showcased their developments, latest materials, production technologies, automated systems, finished products, and services.

"The WIRE exhibition has once again brought together professionals from the wire and cable industry. This demonstrates its significance and relevance. The exhibition has become a platform for the exchange of advanced ideas, technologies, and solutions. Participants have showcased a wide range of products and technologies that meet high quality standards. We have also observed the interest of visitors, which confirms the importance of the exhibition for all market participants. We hope that the ideas and solutions presented here will serve as a foundation for new achievements and progress in the industry," said Kirill Piskarev, Director of the WIRE project.

The exhibition became a platform for professional discussions, where participants were able to exchange views on market development prospects, discuss current challenges, and find ways to overcome them.

The discussion platform Wire Plaza moderated by RusCable, the General Information Partner of the exhibition, became the center of attraction. Sergey Kuzminov, author and presenter of RusCable Live and projects on Kabel.FM, became the host and headliner of the Wire Plaza and RusCable.Ru broadcast and marathon.

During three days, guests and spectators were treated to interviews with representatives of the steel, wire and cable industry, introductions to exhibitors, reviews of catalogs and exhibits, market analysis, live news from the field, exhibitor reviews, visitor reviews and many other topics. Wire Plaza broadcasted directly from the event. The recordings are already available on the WIRE exhibition information resources, as well as on RusCable.Ru and Kabel.FM portals.

WIRE's 2026 exhibition project once again brought together wire and cable industry professionals who demonstrated professionalism, stability, quality, innovative and adaptive solutions for new times.
